

New York's fashion scene is stronger than ever. Meet the tailors, the hatters and shop owners who are putting the city on the fashion map right now.

TEXT AND PHOTO K.F. GUERRA

NEW YORK'S

FINEST

Devon Scott in front of his "backboard" (FIT's Garment District in New York).

THE PRIVATE TAILOR

DEVON SCOTT NY

DEVON SCOTT

With collections that are shown only in conjunction with pre-booked private visits, Devon Scott combines the American and the Italian cut and handcraft. Focus lies on creating classic clothes which are modern - and will remain classic.

WHAT IS HAPPENING WITH YOU RIGHT NOW?

- I am attending courses at the Fashion Institute of Technology they have opened my eyes to new possibilities. It is interesting to be at a campus with like-minded designers and be surrounded by so much inspiration. The FIT Museum exhibits right now are YSL and Halston - those men created such beautiful clothes.

WHAT IS YOUR SIGNATURE PRODUCT?

- The classic white shirt. You can wear it without adding anything to it and it will still give you life.

WHICH STYLOS FRENCH CAN YOU SEE?

- More and more people want quality and tailor-made. We offer carefully handmade products and customers are prepared to wait for them. It is a process of four to six weeks depending on what kind of product it is.

Orders can only be placed in conjunction with a pre-booked visit.
www.devonscottny.com